Dr. Sandeep had addressed that there are two types of real estate one which is self-occupied and other one through which we earn is by giving property on rents but still we are earning negative rental yield that is -6%. Sir also told us about the stock market (ETF) exchange traded fund and its growth. He also shared his views on the variety available in mutual funds like funds for life insurance, term insurance and the mixture available of insurance and investment but it must be separated. Investment done in gold serves the two sides of the coin as it is easy to liquidate which makes it readily available and perhaps difficult to safe. Investment done in the sources from where one could expect higher return can also prove to be a source from where money can be lost soon like gambling, investing in cryptocurrency instead one should follow the strategy of warren buffet which says to buy investment assets and hold them for long term. The guest also made us aware about the Ultra High Net Worth Individuals, individuals having income around 1 million U.S $ and High Net Worth Individuals, individuals having income around 20 million U.S $ as they are the income source for the wealth managers.

The students also interacted with the guest of the day by asking him certain question related to the session which includes, how one can do investment in SIP, future of cryptocurrency, compounding in SIP and how arbitrage works etc. The session was winded up by giving vote of thanks by Miss Aastha Talreja Session Was attended by 31 Students and it was coordinated by Dr. Vilis Pawar and Dr. Pravin Chavan, faculty members of GBSRC.
